Monthly Report – June 2025

Portfolio Manager Comment

The talking points of the month are the big budget proposal in the US and the Riksbank's at-tempt to shock start the Swedish economy. As for the US, we can see that the stock market has recovered after Liberation Day and is now at an all-time high again. American core inflation is still well above the central bank's target and the budget deficit after Trump's budget proposal will accumulate another number of trillions in debt. The budget proposal, now that most people believe it will be voted through, seems to only be filled with more unfunded tax cuts. While the economy is being fueled more than ever before in history, the market expects the key interest rate to be cut two or three steps this autumn. In Sweden, the Riksbank is doing its best to get the economy going with an interest rate cut and a promise of more. This even though core inflation is anchored north of 2%. A lower interest rate will have an impact faster in Sweden than in many other countries because much of the economy has a short in-terest rate fixation period, and perhaps the strong krona can compensate for any additional inflationary pressure. The Swedish ten-year swap rate is down 11 basis points during the month.

The credit market, like the stock market, has performed positively during the month, the high yield index has compressed 17 basis points in Europe while the investment grade index has compressed 3 basis points in Europe and 5 basis points in the US.

Investment Goal and Strategy

The fund is a global corporate credit fund denominated in Swedish Kronor. The fund invests in both Investment Grade and High Yield, with a minimum of 50% rated investment grade. The fund targets highly liquid exposure in European and North American credit, whilst keeping both currency and interest rate risk in Swedish Krona.

To this end credit exposure is assumed via index-based centrally cleared Credit Default Swaps (CDS). The Reference Indices of the CDS contracts are Itraxx Europe Main and CDX Investment Grade or High Yield North America. The exposure to each issuer is equally weighted, ensuring a well-diversified portfolio.

The fund takes positions that eliminate its exposure to companies that do not meet the sustainability requirements set up by Captor. The fund is classified as Article 8 according to the Disclosure Regulation.
