

CAPTOR

Scilla Global Equity

Monthly Report – June 2025

Portfolio Manager Comment

It has been a positive market with relatively small movements for the global stock market during the month. The US stock market has reached an all-time high from its previous high in February earlier this year. The fund ended the month up +1.0% (class C), the fund's benchmark index up +0.5% and the global market-cap weighted index up +3.2%.

There has been a mixed movement among the fund's sector exposures. The best sector has been tech with a performance of almost +6% in local currency. This has resulted in a considerable contribution to the fund's monthly return. The worst sector has been consumer staples where companies were down around -3% in local currency. Grouped by country, it is also a mixed picture. The best markets have been Canada and Singapore while Denmark and Sweden have performed the weakest. The fund's exposure to US companies has had the largest positive contribution during the month even when the USD has weakened. In the currency market, there has been a mixed picture for the Swedish krona, with SEK strengthening most against USD (+1.0%) and JPY (+1.3%) and weakening most against EUR (-2.4%) and CHF (-2.3%).

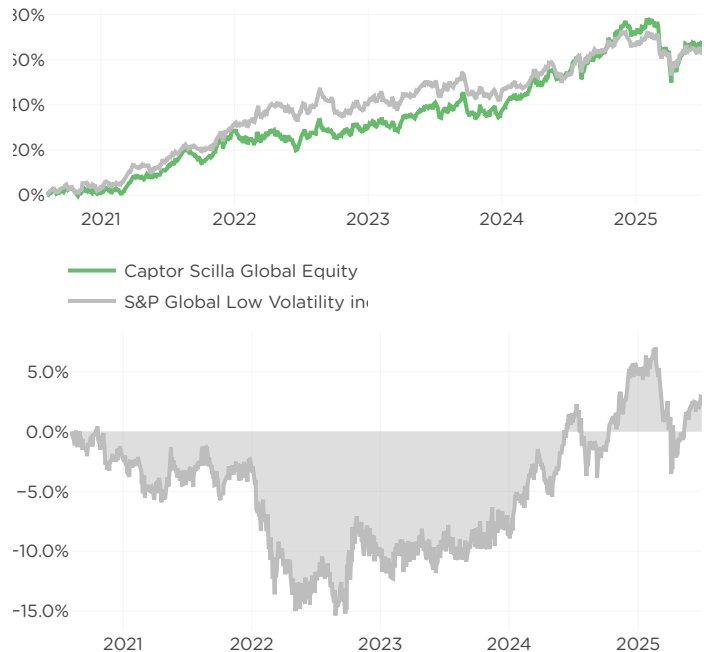

The following companies had the largest movements during the month: Nvidia (+17%), Broadcom (+14%) and Symrise (-15%). The fund currently has an equity exposure of 97%.

Investment Goal and Strategy

Captor Scilla Global Equity is an actively managed fund that invests globally in developed market equities. The fund is based on Captor's investment strategy Scilla. The strategy invests in companies that offer an attractive ratio between expected return and risk, compared to the global market as a whole. The fund excludes from its universe companies that does not comply with Captor's ESG screening criteria, and screens its positions continuously.

Furthermore the strategy can shift the total equity exposure of the fund. In volatile markets the fund can hold up to 50% in cash or high grade bonds, and apply up to 20% leverage in calmer markets. The selection method means that the strategy is exposed to 200-300 companies, which is approximately one fifth of the fund's investable universe. The fund's strategy is tuned only slightly over time while the fundamental strategy stays the same.

Reasons To Invest

Captor Scilla Global Equity is suitable for those who want an allocation to global equities and at the same time have a stable level of risk.

How To Invest In The Fund

Some of the fund's share classes are available through Swedish banks and fund platforms. Furthermore, some share classes have a higher minimum investment, and for such share classes a dilution levy can be applied at subscription/redemption in order to protect the fund's shareholders. The process is the same as employed by exchange traded funds and also allows for physical creations/redemptions.

Risk Profile

The fund aims to have lower volatility than the corresponding market value-weighted investment over time, primarily reducing large sequential drawdowns in in times of stressed markets.
