

PERENNE SHORT TERM BOND

MONTHLY REPORT - AUGUST 2026

PORTFOLIO MANAGER COMMENT

After a quiet late summer marked by uncertainty regarding the situation in the Strait of Hormuz, volatility returned to the interest rate market last week. Interest rates, already high globally, rose rapidly by a few additional basis points. The US Federal Reserve Chair did not appear quite as dovish as expected in his Jackson Hole speech. The ECB has also signaled a tighter policy stance for the autumn. Eurozone countries—and perhaps the US in particular—face a tricky situation where expansionary, unfunded fiscal policy is driving inflation. Unlike in Sweden, both residential and corporate financing rely on long-term, fixed-rate structures, meaning the impact of interest rate adjustments takes longer to materialize. US national debt surpassed $40 trillion during the month, and the pace of borrowing is accelerating as Trump's tariffs fail to generate revenue anywhere near the levels promised. The Swedish one-year swap rate closed the month at 2.47%, and the curve implies an interest rate hike in December.

A one-year Swedish covered bond has a yield of approximately 2.5% at the turn of the month.
